LABOUR REFORMS FOR YOUTH EMPLOYMENT

By Deepak Razdan

In the first year of its office, the NDA Government led by the Prime Minister, Narendra Modi, initiated several steps to increase employment opportunities in the country and benefit workers engaged in the organized, unorganized and self-employed sectors. The Government recognized that employment growth had slowed down, and both employers and the employment-aspiring population, needed urgent help to overcome the challenges.

A major initiative for the educated unemployed is the launch of the National Career Service in a Mission Mode to substantially improve the National Employment Service with additional features. Now, this Service is providing online facilities like registration of job seekers, announcement of job vacancies, career counseling, vocational guidance, information on skill development courses, and the availability of internships and apprenticeships.

The National Career Service will provide information on the demand of work required by industry, and the training facilities available for the jobs, along with details of training providers and apprenticeships available. While the Government and its implementing agencies need to create awareness about the services available, the job-aspiring youth has to look for the information on the department's portal which became operational in March, 2015. One hundred Model Career Centres are being developed in the country. They will be ready to give the job-seekers the last-mile employability skills.

Summing up the difficult employment scenario, the latest Economic Survey (2014-15) (Vol. I, Ch.1), says employment growth was lagging behind the growth in the labour force. Though there were some positive signs in the organized sector during 2000s compared to the 1990s, the overall employment growth rate had fallen from 2.5 per cent in the 1991-2001 decade to 1.8 per cent in the 2001-2011 decade, as per Census data. Since labour force growth rate was higher than employment growth rate, labour absorption in jobs is a major challenge before the country.

Presented by the Modi Government, the Economic Survey (2014-15) (Vol. II

Ch. 9), has noted that the main issue before the Government was not just providing employment opportunities, but increasing the employability of the labour force. According to the Indian Labour Report, "300 million youth will enter the labour force by 2025, and 25 per cent of the world's workers in the next three years will be Indians," the Survey has said.

"Population projections indicate that in 2020 the average age of India's population will be the lowest in the world - around 29 years," and India will be the only country with a youth surplus of 47 million, the Survey says, quoting Labour Bureau and other sources.

An issue of concern regarding India's labour force was that it was highly unskilled. According to the Labour Bureau, the current size of India's formally skilled workforce was just two per cent, compared to 96 per cent 80 per cent of South Korea and Japan. The National Skill Development Corporation (NSDC) has estimated that between 2013 and 2022, there is an incremental requirement of 120 million skilled persons in the non-farm sector. Recognising the challenge, the Government has set up a separate Ministry for Skill Development. Over the last one year, there have been major initiatives to promote Demand Responsive Vocational Training And Career Services to enhance employment and employability of the youth and other vulnerable sections of the work force.

India's poor skill levels are attributed to dearth of a formal vocational education framework, high school drop-out rates,

CAREERS IN TEXTILE INDUSTRY

Manoj Tiwari and Janmay Singh Hada

Textile is a part of our daily life. Since ancient times, textile industry has been the key source of employment and revenue generation in India. India was known as one of the finest fabrics producer in the world, that lured a number of people to India from different corners of the world. Right from the Indus valley civilization to the Mughal era to till date, impact of textiles on Indian trade and society has been very much significant and clearly visible. Under the leadership of Mahatma Gandhi, the philosophy of self-reliance by using hand spun yarn, handmade fabric and garments imbued a great sense of communal harmony and high spirit of nationalism during the great Indian independence movement.

Indian Textile and clothing industry is one of the mainstays of our national economy. With a massive direct employment of more than 45 million people and additional employment of approximately 60 million people in allied fields; textile industry is the second largest employer after agriculture. According to Ministry of Textiles, it contributes about 14 percent to the industrial production, 4 percent to the national GDP, and 12 percent to the country's export earnings. Textile industry also contributes significantly with 27 percent to the country's foreign exchange inflows.

The fundamental strength of the textile industry in India is its strong production base of wide range of fibres, yarns from natural fibres like cotton, jute, silk and wool to synthetic man-made fibres like polyester, viscose, nylon and acrylic. India accounts for about 14% of the world production of the textile fibres and yarns. At global level, India is among the top producers in many textile items, some of the worth mentioning facts are -

- Largest producer of jute and jute products (Approx. 65 percent of world cotton production).
- Second largest producer of cotton (Approx. 24 per cent of world cotton production) and cellulosic fibres.

- Second largest producer of silk and contributes about 18% to the total world raw silk production.
- Fourth largest producer of synthetic fibres and yarns.
- Sixth largest producer of clean wool and ninth largest producer of greasy wool.

Addition to the facts mentioned above, India is also among the world's largest producers of fabrics and garments. Indian textile industry accounts for the highest loom capacity (including handloom) with 63 percent market share. India's textile industry accounts for about 24 percent of the world's spindle capacity Commission may make a preliminary selection of applicants on the basis of their educational qualifications, academic records, percentage of marks, etc., and the applicants thus selected will be required to undergo an Interview/ Personality Test/ Skill Test.

- (ii) The Commission, may at its discretion, decide to hold a CST in appropriate subject for any of the categories of posts or to make a screening of applicants on the basis of percentage of marks on the EQ, where it is felt necessary, before the applicants are called for Interview/Personality Test/ Skill Test/Proficiency Test

- (iv) Detailed programme/schedule of such screening test, if and when decided to be held, will be posted at Commission's website (www.sscnwr.org). Candidates are, therefore, advised to visit the regional website from time to time in their own interest.

NOTE: "The Interview/Personality Test is structured in such a manner that the applicants' interests, knowledge, various traits, aptitude, suitability etc. are probed, among other things, through academic qualifications, extra-curricular activities, general awareness/knowledge, depth of knowledge of the subject studied on the level of 'Essential Qualification' for the post, communicative skill and personality etc."

(B) SCREENING TEST

- (i) The Commission may, at its discretion decide to hold a CST for any of the categories where it is felt necessary before Interview/Personality Test/ Proficiency Test/Skill Test.

(C) RECOMMENDATION FOR APPOINTMENT:

- (i) The Commission will have the full discretion to fix separate minimum qualifying marks in Examination/Skill Test/Screening Test/Personality Test/ Interview for each category of candidates [viz. SC/ST/OBC/PH/ ExS/General (UR)].

- (ii) After the Examination (Skill Test/Screening Test/Personality Test/Interview wherever applicable), the Commission will draw up the Merit List on the basis of the marks obtained by the candidates in the Examination and, in that order, as many candidates as are found by the Commission to have qualified in the Examination shall be recommended for appointment up to the number of unreserved vacancies available.
- (iii) SC, ST and OBC candidates, who are selected on their own merit without relaxed standards, along with candidates belonging to other communities, will not be adjusted against the reserved share of vacancies. Such SC, ST and OBC candidates will be accommodated against the general/unreserved vacancies as per their position in the overall Merit List. The reserved vacancies will be filled up separately from amongst the eligible SC, ST and OBC candidates which will, thus, comprise of SC, ST and OBC candidates who are lower in merit than the last general candidate on merit list of unreserved category but otherwise found suitable for appointment even by relaxed standard.

Such candidates may also be recommended at the relaxed standards to the extent the number of vacancies reserved for them, to make up for the deficiency in the reserved quota, irrespective of their rank in the order of merit. Insofar as cases of Ex-Serviceman are concerned, deduction from the age of Ex-Serviceman is permissible against the reserved or unreserved posts and such exemption cannot be termed as relaxed standards in regard to age.
- (vi) Success in the examination confers no right of appointment unless the Government is satisfied after such enquiry as may be considered necessary that the candidate is suitable in all respects for appointment to the service/post.

NOTE: The candidates applying for the examination should ensure that they fulfill all the eligibility conditions for admission to the examination. Their admission at all the stages of examination will be purely provisional, subject to their satisfying the prescribed eligibility conditions. If, on verification, at any time before or after the written examination and interview, it is found that they do not fulfill any of the eligibility conditions, their candidature for the examination will be cancelled by the Commission.

(D) RESOLUTION OF TIE CASES:

If there are candidates having the same aggregate marks in the Examination the candidate older in age gets preference. Lastly, if the tie still persists, the tie is finally resolved by referring to the alphabetical order of names, i.e., a candidate whose name begins with the alphabet which comes first in the alphabetical order gets preference. In case where the Commission administers Common Screening Test (CST), the extant instructions on the subject would be followed.

Note: The candidates applying for the examination should ensure that they fulfill all the eligibility conditions for admission to the examination. negative perceptions towards skilling and lack of industry-ready skills even in professional courses. While the government has embarked on a wide variety of measures, the youth looking for jobs should realize the easy potential of securing good jobs by acquiring the skills in demand. The National Skill Development Corporation (NSDC) has been set up by the Government as a public private partnership company with the primary mandate of catalyzing the skills of 150 million people. Currently there are 1408 centres run by NSDC's training partners, including 106 mobile ones.

While creating a skilled work force to meet its requirement, the Government's major strategy to generate employment is by creating an environment for industrial growth and expansion of the labour-intensive micro, small and medium enterprises (MSME). A major reason for the stagnation of industrial growth in the country has been the rigidity and multiplicity of labour laws. Afraid of complying with a large number of laws and regulations, the small and medium industries have been reluctant to expand. This has made the Indian industry uncompetitive in the growing global market, as well as restricted in its capacity to give new jobs.

Aware of the complexity of challenges posed by the 44 Central and over a 100 State labour laws, the Labour and Employment Ministry has initiated the process of rationalizing the entire labour laws into five Labour codes -

Code on Wages, Code on Safety and Working Conditions, Code on Industrial Relations, Code on Social Security and Welfare and a Code on Employment Training and Miscellaneous. An inter-Ministerial Group has been formed to consider the suggestions of the stakeholders and to draft the Codes. To seek a consensus on the proposed changes, the Ministry has initiated a series of meetings with all stakeholders, particularly the Central Trade Unions to remove their doubts on the rights and welfare of the workers.

Convinced that the 'ease of doing business' will bring forth fresh investment and promote industry, which will ultimately create more jobs, the Centre is encouraging the States to go ahead with their initiatives in labour reforms. In this area, the Centre has facilitated the Presidential assent for the labour law amendment Bills passed by the Rajasthan legislature. The three Acts amended by the State are the Industrial Disputes Act, the Factories Act and the Contract Labour Act. Earlier industrial units employing 100 or more workers had to seek Government permission for lay off, retrenchment or closure. Due to the threshold limit of 100 workers, no industry wanted to employ 100 or more workers. This restricted their growth. Now this limit has been raised to 300 workers. To help the workers, retrenched workers would get a three months notice and wages before retrenchment.

Notorious for inspector raj, the Factories Act was applicable to industries employing 10 workers if using electricity for manufacture, or to units employing 20 workers without using electricity. The limits under the law have been raised to 20 and 40, respectively. The Contract

Labour Act has been amended to raise the applicability of the Act to companies with more than 50 workers from the current 20. Labour being a subject on the Concurrent List of the Constitution, the Centre is planning amending the labour laws at the Central level on similar lines. The Labour and Employment Minister, Shri Bandaru Dattatreya, has assured the Trade Unions that working conditions and social security of the workers would not be compromised. Signalling its seriousness to make laws friendly for workers as well as industries, the Union Government has already amended the Apprentices Act 1961 to make it more responsive to industry and to youth. The Labour Ministry is holding consultative meetings on the draft Small Factories (Regulation of Employment and Conditions of Services) Bill, 2014 which will regulate factories employing less than 40 workers. The Apprentice Protsahan Yojana (APY) launched on 16th October, 2014, with focus on MSME, aims to support one lakh apprentices by reimbursing 50 per cent of the stipend paid to them during the first two years of their training. The vision is to have more than 20 lakh apprentices in next few years against the present number of 2.9 lakh. Enhanced rates of stipend indexed to minimum wage of semi-skilled worker have been notified for trade apprentices.

For the organized sector workers, the Employees Provident Fund (EPF) Scheme now has complete portability of the workers' accounts with the allotment of Universal Account Numbers (UAN). The workers can change jobs anywhere in the country and retain the same account number for easy and fast settlement of claims. The minimum pension of Rs 1000 per month to EPF members under the Employees Pension Scheme has been notified for perpetuity.

As per the National Sample Survey Organisation data, the country's labour force consisted of 48.37 crore. For the unorganized workers, who constitute 92 per cent of the work force, the Government has announced their identification and registration as per the Unorganized Workers Social Security Act, 2008, leading to creation of a database of unorganized workers. An identity card to unorganized workers with linkages with Aadhaar No. and Bank Account No. will be issued for convergence of Social Security Schemes for them on a single platform.
