SKILLING INDIA AND TRAINING RESOURCES

Dr. Ankuran Dutta, Dr. Anamika Ray

In a report, the Ministry of Human Resource Development of the Union Government of India says that India has more than 620 Universities. Among these, 178 are privately managed, 7 universities are exclusively for women. In addition to 1 Central and 13 State Open Universities, there are 95 Dual mode universities, which offer education through open and distance mode. There are 225 affiliating universities and these have 32,974 colleges. The Gross Enrolment Ratio (GER) is also changing and scoring nearly 20 percent of the total population (between 18 to 23 years). It has increased nearly 7 percent in the last half decade. Although the GER is still below the world average, yet it is a welcome trend of higher education in India. A common allegation against the education system in the country is used to arise that the higher education institutions have been producing huge number of unemployable youths. Among all the reasons, the lack of required skill is very significant issue. Specially it can be said that skill development gets less importance in academic curricula. Therefore, in almost all the sectors are facing a crucial shortage of "skilled" and "qualified" manpower. A passive response to skill development fails to fulfill the need of existing academic and industrial need. Understanding the gravity of that need, the government has been giving priorities in the skill development in the country. Prime Minister Narendra Modi recently launched six new labour schemes aiming labour reforms and skill development as an essential part of the 'Make in India' campaign. On the issue of skill gap in the country, the former Prime Minister Dr

Manmohan Singh remarked in 2006 as "As our economy booms and as our industry grows, I hear a pressing complaint about an imminent shortage of skilled employees. As a country endowed with huge human resources, we cannot let this be a constraint." As per the report of the National Skill Development Agency (NSDA), the target to develop the skill of individuals in the financial year 2014-15 is 1,05,07,600 under 21 ministries and organisations. Till October, 2014, 31.52 percent is achieved in skilling. The government is targeting to develop the skills of another about 72 lacs individuals by end of the running financial year. The current capacity of institutions of technical vocational education and initiatives, which are imparting skill development in the country, is 3.1 million per annum against country's target of skilling 500 million people by 2022. It is very significant to note the need for training huge number of people, and the existing systems require upgradation with new tools, technologies and huge infrastructure not only to impart training but also to do administrative and certification processes. New methods of training and certification need to be considered and appropriately designed. The concept of Open Educational Resources is still a new impression to the vocational education. In India, a few institutions of national importance and universities have adopted their policies towards

Open Educational Resource (OER). OER provides an excellent route to provide skill training to millions. Being digital and online, it can complement and supplement face-to-face training initiatives. People can use OER for learning, and attend hands on training sessions for polishing their skills. Moreover, creating a repository of OER on different levels and discipline areas would be huge resource that can be used by all the training institutions in the country without duplicating efforts on training materials. The term "open educational resources" was first adopted at UNESCO's 2002 Forum on the Impact of Open Courseware for Higher Education in Developing Countries. 2012 Paris OER Declaration emphasises the definition of the OER as "teaching, learning and research materials in any medium, digital or otherwise, that reside in the public domain or have been released under an open license that permits no-cost access, use, adaptation and redistribution by others with no or limited restrictions. Open licensing is built within the existing framework of intellectual property rights as defined by relevant international conventions and respects the authorship of the work". The President and CEO of Commonwealth of Learning Professor Asha Kanwar stated in a blog that there has been a great deal of discussion regarding the potential for open educational resources (OER) in higher education to increase access, reduce costs and enhance educational quality in the entire glob. The importance of OER is to promote and accelerate the achievement of internationally agreed goals, such as the Millennium Development Goals and the Education for All goals, wherein learning is seen as the key to development. This is inevitably leading us to pay closer attention to OER in the developing Commonwealth, and to the challenges of OER awareness, development, adaptation and reuse. In the innovation initiatives, the National Skill Development Corporation (NSDC) is piloting the use of OER in the skill development sector. It becomes a success that the NSDA developed an YouTube portal named "NSDAOER". As part of its activities, the NSDA is engaged in the creation of a directory of all available audio-visual content and publications pertaining to various vocational, technical and other skills, with the intention of making freely available training and educational resources for all users from one platform. With the assistance of Sector Skill Councils, NSDA has made an effort to classify the OER into sectors considering the various levels of 'Qualification Packs' (QP) and the Manasvi Pushkarna, has been serving a Five Star Hotel and appears really satisfied with his job. When asked about how he got into it, he was happy to share his experience. "I was picked up from the Institute in Lucknow. I was studying in Institute of Hotel Management there. When I was on the verge of completing my Hotel Management studies, J.P. Group of Hotels launched a placement drive for the best performers. After sometime I was absorbed in a 5 Star Hotel, Delhi on a handsome monthly salary. There are various Career oriented study options, to choose from, for those passing their School Board exams. Tourism is one such sector. If one decides his career from year 10 or 11 onwards, it is always better

Nita Nirash

All these factors pave way mostly for employment of a professional workforce to let the business thrive. The basic fundamental of the use of OER in skill development is providing quality training resources to the target audience. It can be used individually to develop skill or re-skill on an area of comfortability. The vocational education institutions can also use all these open resources in their teaching learning mechanism and to enhance the skill in process of teaching-learning. Another advantage of the use of OER in skill development is to reduce the duplication of the resources- human, financial and institutions. The public resources should not be used in duplicating the efforts. If an ITI based in Mumbai developed a training material, it can be used in any other part considering the language issues. The TVET institutes should encourage the use of open resources for the vocational training and skill development in the country adopting appropriate institutional policies. NEWS DIGEST

- PM feels humbled by scientists' work : Emphasizing academic autonomy for scientists and greater funding from India including for research and technology and the need to put science and technology as top national priorities, Prime Minister Shri Narendra Modi recently inaugurated the 102nd Indian Science Congress at the University of Mumbai.
- Science Congress lauds 'feats' of ancient India : The Indian Science Congress made history with a symposium on "Ancient Sciences through Sanskrit" that included a paper on the existence of interplanetary aircraft in India around 9,000 years ago, references to "cosmic connection" and a phenomenon explained as "fusion of science and spirituality due to inter-penetration law." Held under the aegis of Mumbai University, this is the first time in its 102-year history that the Congress has included such a session.
- Contribute to new India's growth : India has a strong democracy and youth is its asset. Over 50 per cent of India's population is under the age of 25 yrs, and soon one-fifth of the world's working population will be in India. Mrs. Sushma Swaraj said this recently at the inaugural session of the Youth Pravasi Bharatiya Divas, part of the three-day Pravasi Bharatiya Divas in Gandhinagar (Gujarat).
- Arvind Panagariya is NITI Vice-Chief : The Government has appointed American economist Arvind Panagariya as the Vice Chairman of National Institution for Transforming India (NITI) Aayog. Another economist Bibek Debroy and Scientist Dr. VK Saraswat have been appointed as the fulltime members of the restructured Planning Commission. Shri Saraswat was the Director General of Defence Research and Development Organization and Chief scientific advisor to former Defence Minister AK Antony. Several Union Ministers have been named as special invitees. The Prime Minister is the Chairman of the NITI Aayog. However, the Aayog is yet to get more members. There will be two part time members from leading universities or research organizations and other relevant institutions in an ex-officio capacity.
- Govt banks are expanding but it's the private ones that do all the new hiring : Public sector banks have opened more number of branches across the country over the past few years but it is the private sector where most of the hirings have happened, according to latest data released by the Reserve Bank of India. According to the data released last week, one in every four bank employees works with a private bank today - a sharp rise from one in 10 in 2005. Significantly, Prime Minister Shri Narendra Modi recently promised greater autonomy to public sector banks and emphasized the need for them to be run professionally. The Finance Ministry also issued directions asking PSBs to act without "fear or favour" and to ignore "extraneous considerations" in their commercial decisions.
- Hiring In India may grow By 40% This Year, Say Recruiters : It may rain jobs in the country this year, as the government's policies for "achche din (good days)" and signs of an end to a long industrial downturn are likely to whip up an appetite to hire across several sectors in corporate India. Headhunters, who spent at least three years in relative wilderness, are seeing a rosy mood as green shoots appear in manufacturing and services alike. The Narendra Modi Government's growth push is expected to boost hiring by at least 25% and it may go up to 40% in 2015 over the previous year, say recruitment industry executives.
- Get 2 LED bulbs for Rs. 130 each, save electricity : Prime Minister Shri Narendra Modi recently launched a scheme for LED bulb distribution under the domestic efficient lighting programme in Delhi; and a National Programme for LED-based Home and Street Lighting. Shri Modi also symbolically replaced one bulb in South Block, with an LED bulb. Replacement of all bulbs in South Block with LED bulbs will enable savings of 7000 units of energy each month. Speaking on the occasion, the Prime Minister called for making energy conservation through the spread of LED bulbs, a people's movement. He noted that it is much more economical to conserve power, than to produce power. Therefore, he called for generating awareness among people for the same.
- 'Informed consent must for family planning' : The Union Ministry of health and family welfare has written to all states to ensure that every individual opting for family planning, is provided options in a "spirit of voluntarism". Following protests over the focus on female sterilization and the deaths of 13 women in Chhattisgarh in November, 2014 the Ministry has shot off a letter to the States underlining that female sterilization is just one of the options in the "bouquet" of family planning choices and every individual should be counseled about options available.
- NEPAL has introduced women-only minibuses in an attempt to protect female passengers from sexual assault : Four 17-seater minibuses were flagged off in Kathmandu with large "women-only" signs and they will operate on key routes in Kathmandu during morning and evening rush hour, the transport operator organizing the service said. "Groping and sexual assault is a problem for women who use buses, especially during peak hours when buses are overcrowded," said Bharat Nepal, president of the Bagmati Federation Transport Union, which introduced the service.
